

Graduation Requirements: GCPS Students Who Started High School in 2011–12

Gwinnett County Public Schools (GCPS) students seeking a regular high school diploma must meet state and local graduation requirements by earning designated credits, and by passing specific courses as well as state and local writing assessments. As the parent of a new high school student, you may have questions about graduation requirements. Following are frequently asked questions and answers about testing and other requirements.

What are the graduation requirements for GCPS students who started high school in the 2011–12 school year?

In order to earn a regular Gwinnett County high school diploma, students starting high school this school year must:

- Learn the AKS in order to pass classes and earn the required course credits/units (see chart below);
- Pass Gwinnett’s High School Gateway Writing Assessment, which is administered in the 10th grade; and
- Pass the Georgia High School Writing Test, which is administered in the 11th grade.

To graduate, Georgia students starting high school in July 2008 and after must earn a minimum of 23 credits (also called units) in the following areas of study:

Required Areas of Study	Credit/Unit
Language Arts	4
Mathematics	4
Science (The 4th science unit may be used to meet both the science and an elective requirement.)	4
Social Studies	3
Modern/Classical Language and/or Technical Education and/or Fine Arts	3
Health and Physical Education	1
Electives	4

Students can earn .5 units per class each semester. (Students on block schedule can earn a full credit per class each semester.) For admission to a University System of Georgia college or university, students must pass specific courses in the core academic areas, including two units of the same Modern or Classical Language. Core academic courses, both required and elective, are included in calculation of the HOPE GPA for HOPE Scholarship eligibility. See the HOPE flyer on the school system website (www.gwinnett.k12.ga.us) to learn more.

What is the purpose of the graduation testing program?

Graduation tests provide valuable information for students, educators, and parents about student strengths and areas for improvement. The tests identify students who may need additional instruction in the concepts and skills required for a diploma. These assessments ensure that Georgia’s students qualifying for a regular education diploma have mastered essential core academic content and skills.

Are all students subject to testing requirements?

Students with disabilities and students learning English as a second language may receive accommodations based on their needs and the specifications of their Individualized Education Program (IEP), their Individual Accommodation Plan (IAP), or their Test Participation Plan (TPP) for English Language Learners. Students with disabilities unable to participate in the state testing program, even with maximum accommodations, are assessed with the Georgia Alternate Assessment.

What are the graduation tests like?

Georgia High School Writing Test

All students pursuing a Georgia high school diploma must pass the Georgia High School Writing Test (GHSWT). Students take the graduation writing test in the fall of their junior year. Students compose a persuasive essay of no more than two pages on an assigned topic. The two-hour test administration includes 100 minutes of writing and time for planning and editing the paper. Students who do not pass on their first attempt have multiple opportunities to receive extra help, retake the writing test if they didn’t pass, and qualify for graduation before the spring of the 12th grade. Students must pass the writing test to graduate.

GCPS High School Gateway Assessment

All students must demonstrate knowledge of Gwinnett County Public Schools' Academic Knowledge and Skills (AKS) curriculum. Students can find the AKS by course and by core academic subject on the school system website

(at www.gwinnett.k12.ga.us/aks.nsf).

The Gateway Assessment measures students' ability to write effectively about 9th and 10th grade Science and 10th grade Social Studies AKS. Students write two essays—one on a Science topic and one on a Social Studies topic. In writing a response, students use their own knowledge about the topic as well as information from documents provided. Students have 125 minutes to write each of the essays, one per day.

The assessment is administered in the spring of the 10th grade year. Intervention classes are provided to help students who do not pass this assessment. Students who are not successful on the test the first time have several opportunities to retake the assessment before graduation.

All Gwinnett students, including those who enroll in GCPS after 10th grade, must pass both sections of the school system's High School Gateway Assessment to earn a regular diploma.

End of Course Tests

Students are required to participate in state-mandated End of Course Tests (EOCT) to earn credit for designated high school courses. Any student enrolled in and/or receiving credit for a course requiring an EOCT must participate in the assessment at the completion of the course in December or May and is required to pass the course in order to earn credit toward graduation. In Gwinnett, results of this multiple-choice test count for 20% of the student's semester grade in the semester the test is administered.

EOCTs—required for two courses in each core subject area—are designed to hold students statewide to the same learning standards. The state's EOCT program includes the following eight content-area assessments: Freshman Language Arts, Junior American Literature, Integrated Algebra II/Accelerated Integrated Algebra I, Integrated Geometry/Accelerated Integrated Geometry, U.S. History, Economics/Business/Free Enterprise, Biology, and Physical Science. Note: Most Gwinnett students take seven of the eight courses that require an EOCT, with some GCPS students enrolled in the eighth course, Physical Science.

How can students prepare for graduation tests?

Regular attendance, daily participation in class, and the completion of assigned homework and projects help ensure that students are exposed to the curriculum areas covered on these tests. In addition, Gwinnett high school students regularly write essays and compositions to prompts, which are good practice for both the state writing test and the Gwinnett Gateway writing test. Students also take tests in class that mirror the Gateway format. This experience helps students develop proficiency in the important content knowledge and writing skills that colleges and businesses expect of today's graduates. Students have several additional resources for practice materials and information online.

- USA Test Prep. This resource includes weekly review, daily tips, practice tips, games, and activities, vocabulary, downloads, and more in each of the core academic areas. (<http://www.usatestprep.com/Member-Login>)
- Online Assessment System. Practice tests for EOCTs also are available through the state Department of Education (<https://www.georgiaoas.org>)
- GACollege411. The state's free, one-stop college planning website offers a number of valuable resources, including test preparation help. (GACollege411.org)

Request user name and password through the school.*

How can I learn more about required state and local assessments?
